HOW WE READ IT. Property sales are Allegheny County deeds on the Western Pennsylvania Regional Data Center, which run about ten days behind the courthouse; buyer names are not in the county's public file. Food openings are the county Health Department's inspection records, whose public copy runs about two months behind; liquor filings are the PLCB's, checked every Friday. Agendas and minutes come from each town's own website. An agenda item prints as scheduled and only minutes print as decided.
